THE Numb. 64.

VIRGINIA GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Friday, October 14, to Friday, October 21, 1737.

Boſton, Auguſt 29.

LAST Week Capt. Thomas arrived here from Jamaica, but laſt from Moſchetto Shore, with whom, came as Paſſenger Mr. John Ray, late Surgeon of the Harle Frigate, who gives us the following Account of the taking of the ſaid Ship, with ſeveral other Engliſh Veſſels in the Bay of Honduras, by the Spaniards, viz. That on the 26th of April laſt, there were in the ſaid Bay, loading with Logwood, the Harle Frigate of London, a fine Ship of 400 Tons, 20 Guns, and 50 Men, Capt. Hall, of Briſtol, a Ship of 12 Guns, and Capt. Bennet, of Jamaica, in a Sloop of 8 Guns, beſides ſeveral other Veſſels of little or no Force. The Harle Frigate and Capt. Hall lay pretty near together, and the Harle, as Commodore, had the Promiſe of Aſſiſtance from all the other Veſſels, except Capt. Hall, and Capt. Bennet, who were to aſſiſt their Commodore with their Veſſels, in Caſe of an Attack from the Spaniards; but to the Shame of many of our Countrymen, it muſt be ſaid, that only Two Men (the Maſter and Mate of a Sloop) came on board the Harle, during the ſmart Fight, which is now to be related. On the abovelaid Day, early in the Morning, the Spaniards entred the Bay, with a Man of War of 24 Guns, a Galley, and Five large Pettiaugers, manned with 5 or 600 Men; they caſt Anchor within Cannon Shot of our Ships, and having brought their Guns to bear, fired fiercely upon them, both from their Ship and Galley; the laſt of which had a long Braſs Piece called a Caſtoe, which carried an Eighteen Pound Ball. Our Ships returned the Fire, and maintained the Fight till Five or Six o'Clock in the Afternoon, when the Men having behaved gallantly like Engliſh Men, and expended all their Shot, (having fired Eighteen Rounds) they were obliged to ceaſe firing; and at the ſame Time the Spaniards, as it ſeemed, out of Compliment, ceaſed firing alſo: And the Commodore, who was a light and lofty Ship, and at whom the Spaniards chiefly aimed) having received ſeveral Shot in her Hull, and wanting Ammunition to renew the Fight, agreed with Capt. Hall (who lay cloſe by) to ſail at Four o'Clock the next Morning, and endeavour to eſcape, which they accordingly did, in Company with ſeveral other Veſſels who ſtaid in the Bay, either for fear of paſſing by the Spaniards, or to ſee the Event of the Engagement, which they might hope would, at laſt, turn to the Advantage of the Engliſh. But the Spaniards obſerving them under Sail, fitted out their ſmall Craft, which purſued and took 6 or 7 of the ſmaller Veſſels, while their Ship and Galley followed the Harle and Capt. Hall, the latter of which had the Fortune to fight his Way through and eſcape, but the Harle having ſeveral Shot Holes in her Sides, and being light, when ſhe came to Work, the Men ſoon found Eleven Foot Water in her Hold, and the Spaniards being cloſe at their Heels, they determined to run her on Shore, which they did, and had Time only to make their Eſcape in their Boats, with their Arms and a few ſmall Neceſſaries. The Spaniards ſoon took Poſſeſſion of her, and in about half an Hour's Time got her off, and carried her farther into the Bay; after which they ſent their ſmall Craft to take Poſſeſſion of the Two Boats in which the poor Men got on Shore; but the Men having divided themſelves in convenient Places for their Defence, they gave the Spaniards ſo warm a Reception with their ſmall Arms, that they were ſoon glad to quit their Enterprize, and go off without their Booty. If the Spaniards had ſucceeded in their Attempt upon the Boats, the Men muſt have been in the moſt lamentable Circumſtances, there being ſeveral Rivers between them and the Engliſh who reſide on Shore in the Bay; or if they chuſe rather to go to the Moſchetto Indians (as they afterwards did) they would have been left without the proper Means of Conveyance.

It muſt not be forgot that Capt. Bennet, of Jamaica, who was mentioned in the beginning of this Account, fought the Spaniards bravely for ſome Time, running along their Sides, and firing upon them; but his Sloop not working ſo well as might have been deſired and expected, he was forced to leave the Bay, (as did ſeveral others at the ſame Time) before the Diſpute was ended; and the Spaniards were ſo civil as not to moleſt any of thoſe Veſſels that went out during the Engagement.

About two Hours after the Fight began, the Spaniards hoiſted the King's Standard Royal on board both their Veſſels, to let the Engliſh know that they acted by his Commiſſion, in order (as with Reaſon ſuppoſed) to deter them from fighting, leſt they ſhould be treated as Pirates when taken, for firing at the King's Colours. However this Stratagem did not diſcourage them from acting like gallant Engliſhmen and brave Fellows, who (as far as in them lay) maintain'd the Honour of their Country, and who deſerved a far better Fate than they met with; and they would doubtleſs have preſerved their own Ship, and very probably all the other Veſſels in the Bay, whoſe Safety depended thereon, had they been aſſiſted by their Men, as they ought to have been, according to Agreement, the Reaſon of Things, and the Cuſtom in all ſuch Caſes. For, if the Commodore with only 32 Men, and Capt. Hall, with about Half that Number, could main a deſperate Fight for a whole Day againſt 2 King's Ships full of Men, and well equipped for ſuch a Service, and even deter them from making any very near or hazardous Attempt, by boarding, &c. as it is plain they did, there is Reaſon to think, if they had had double the Number of Hands, they would either have forced their Enemies to retire, or elſe fought their Way through, and during the Diſpute, given the other Veſſels an Opportuity to eſcape; either of which Ways would have been more glorious to themſelves, and profitable to their Owners, than their lying idle Spectators, and contenting themſelves with a baſe and neutral Behaviour in ſo critical a Juncture; eſpecially when it is conſidered, that every Man of them had as much at Stake, as thoſe gallant Fellows who bore the brunt and heat of the Service, upon whom (as an Encouragement to brave and heroic Actions) Providence was ſo far pleas'd to ſmile, that not one of them was either killed or wounded in the whole Engagement; and 'tis hoped, they are all before this Time, got ſafe home to their Friends, or at leaſt arrived among their own compaſſionate Countrymen; while many of thoſe who were over careful of their Lives, are either murdered by their barbarous Enemies, or ſubjected to a Captivity in many Reſpects worſe than Death itſelf.

The Harle's Men having loſt their Ship, as has been ſaid, by the Help of their Boats, got to that part of the Moſchetto Country where Veſſels uſually touch in their Way to the Bay, and ſome of them ſoon got a Paſſage to their own Country, but others of them remained there a conſiderable Time, when they learned that the Spaniards

ſent

ſent home by their Pettiaugers the ſmaller Veſſels they had taken, but continued at Anchor in the Bay with their Ship and Galley, and the Harle Frigate, with Engliſh Colours flying, in order to decoy all Veſſels that ſhould afterwards come in. Several People were employ'd from the Moſchetto Shore to look into the Bay to ſee when it was clear, who diſcovered the ſaid Ship and Spaniards lying there 5 Weeks after the Bay was taken; which Intelligence prevented many Veſſels from falling into their Hands, who touched at the Moſchetto Shore in their Way down.

The Spaniards will doubtleſs make a Ship of War of the Harle, ſhe being a larger and better Ship than that with which they attack'd her. She brought from Holland to Philadelphia 400 Palatines, from whence ſhe ſailed to Jamaica loaded with Proviſions, and from thence to the Bay, where ſhe met with the Misfortune above related.

Boſton, Aug. 22. About Ten o' Clock one Evening laſt Week, a Perſon turning the Corner of the Swing-Bridge, was aſſaulted by a Villain with the End of a heavy Stick upon his Head, which knock'd him down, and he immediately ſearch'd his Pockets, took out his Pocket-Book, wherein was a ſmall matter of Money, and put off undiſcovered.

We hear that a Perſon who keeps upon one End of the Iſlands in the Harbour, lately found a Porpus on the Shore, which was caſt there by the Surff of the Sea, which was 15 Feet in Length, and weigh'd upwards of Twelve Hundred Weight, out of which he made above Thirteen Gallons of Oil: And had he had Time to have come to Boſton to ſell Two Buſhels of Tom-Cods, Eels, Perch, and Flounders, which he found in his Belly alive, he doubtleſs would have made Forty Shillings more in ready Money.

Boſton, Sept. 19. Monday laſt, arrived a Sloop from the Bay of Honduras, by whom we have Advice, That when the Spaniards came into the Bay in April laſt, ſeveral of our Veſſels made their Eſcape from them, by going up the River, where the Men built a Sort of a Fortification to defend them from the Spaniſh ſmall Craft which was ſent againſt them. It has been very ſickly in the Bay, and abundance of the Bay-men have died (eſpecially the chief of them) as well as thoſe belonging to the Veſſels. 'Tis ſaid, the Spaniards burnt abundance of Logwood that was landed at the Keys, belonging to ſome of the Veſſels now in the Bay, which was occaſioned by their ſtaying ſo long; and that what Wood they bring will be upon Freight only. That Proviſions are exceeding ſcarce in the Bay: That the Spaniards have taken a Sloop or two belonging to this Town in the Entrance of the Bay, ſince the Deſtruction that happened in April; and that Capt. Hall of Briſtol, one of the Ships that behaved ſo gallantly when attack'd by the Spaniards, in Company with the Harle Frigate, after ſome Stay at the Moſchetto Shore, was gone down to the Bay again, in order to look for Logwood.

Laſt Week a very melancholly Accident happened at Marblehead; as a Butcher was about killing an Ox, having made faſt a Rope about his Horns, he then made him faſt ſhort to a Cleat which was made for that Purpoſe; and as he was about to knock him down, he obſerved that the Rope was pretty long, and fearing it would tangle about his Legs, he took the End of it and wound round his Body, but unfortunately for him, he miſs'd his Blow, and the Ox being in a Rage, broke the Cleat, and ran furiouſly out of the Slaughter-Houſe, dragging the poor unhappy Butcher after him the Space of 7 or 8 Rods over Stones and Rocks, and bruis'd his Body in a very lamentable Manner: Some of the People who ſaw him, loos'd him aſſoon as poſſibly they could, but too late, the poor Man being dead before timely Aſſiſtance could come to him.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8. For the Benefit of the Public, we here inſert an Account of thoſe inoculated for the Small Pox in this City, from laſt Fall to this Spring, during which Time it was very Rife, and prov'd as Mortal in the common Way of Infection, as was ever known in theſe Parts.

There were Inoculated,

Whites	Men and Women,	33
	Under Twelve Years of Age,	64
Mulattos,		4
Negros young and old,		28
	In all	129

Among the firſt Number, there was a Gentlewoman under a feveriſh and ill State of Body, from the Reliques of an intermitting Fever; but ſhe went through the Diſtemper and did very well. Another of that Number, was a young Gentlewoman, of whom it was dubious whether ſhe had had the Diſtemper or not: At the Time it ſhould have operated ſhe was a little diſordered, but that ſoon went off, and ſhe was as well as before; nor did ſhe ever after receive the Infection, by which it is concluded ſhe had the Diſtemper in her Infancy. Another of that Number, was in the Fifth or Sixth Month of her Pregnancy; notwithſtanding which ſhe did very well. In the Second Number, One died; which was the only One among all that were Inoculated, which did otherwiſe than well.

There were (beſides what are mentioned above) about 7 or 8 inoculated by Perſons who are not profeſs'd Practioners; however they all did well.

The above Accounts we receiv'd from Dr. Kearſley, Dr. Zachary, Dr. Hooper, Dr. Cadwallader, Dr. Shippen, Dr. Bond, and Dr. Sonmans, who were the only Phyſicians (that we can hear of) who inoculated; Dr. Græme being confin'd to his Chamber by Illneſs, almoſt the whole Time that the Small Pox was in Town.

The WIFE.

IF Marriage gives a Happineſs to Life,
Such muſt the Woman be who'll be my Wife:
Beauteous as height of Fancy can expreſs,
Meek in her Nature, cleanly in her Dreſs;
Wiſe without Pride, and pleaſing without Art,
With cheerful Aſpect, and with honeſt Heart;
To ſooth my Cares, moſt high, moſt ſweet her Song,
To blame my Faults, moſt low, moſt kind her Tongue:
In looſer Hours, in Hours more dull, ſtill dear;
A gay Companion, and a Friend ſincere:
Fond without Folly, ſpir'tous without Rage.
And as in Youth, may ſeem the ſame in Age.
Ye Power's above, if ſuch a Woman be,
(Such cou'd ye make) that Woman give to me:
She as a Wife muſt pleaſe, and ſhe alone;
O give me ſuch a Wife----or give me none.

Virginia, ſſ.

WILLIAM GOOCH, Eſq;

His Majeſty's Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief, of the Colony and Dominion of Virginia,

To all Sheriffs, Conſtables, and Others, His Majeſty's Liege People, to whom theſe Preſents ſhall come. Greeting.

WHEREAS Complaint hath been made to me, on Behalf of John Lidderdale, of the County of Prince George, Merchant, That ſome Time in the Month of Auguſt laſt paſt, in the Night Time, divers Perſons came to the Dwelling houſe of the ſaid Lidderdale, in the ſaid County, and obraining Admittance into the ſame, on Pretence of delivering a Letter, they forcibly ſeiſed and tied the People in the ſaid Houſe, and feloniouſly took and carried away from thence, Goods and Chattels to a conſiderable Value, and about the Sum of Eighty Pounds in Caſh, being the Property of the ſaid Lidderdale: And that John Burke, James Newgine, Paul Callaham, and Thomas Robertſon, all Iriſhmen, are ſuſpected to have committed the ſaid Felony, and are ſince abſconded. The ſaid Burke, is of the Age of Thirty Years, or thereabouts; a luſty, well proportioned Man; hath a ſmooth Face, long Viſage, and a very long Noſe, ſpeaketh generally Iriſh, but can on Occaſion, talk in the Scotch Dialect; wears generally Grey Duroy Cloaths, and hath an old faſhioned Watch, with a Tortiſeſhell Caſe, ſtudded with Silver, made by Lounds in Pall-Mall, London, belonging to the ſaid Lidderdale. The ſaid Newgine is of the Age of Forty Years, or thereabouts; a thick, well-ſet Man, about Five Feet Nine Nine Inches high, ſpeaketh very much upon the Brogue; is Pock-fretten, and hath a Scar in his Face, and generally weareth brown Duroy Cloaths. The ſaid Callaham is a ſmall, ſmooth fac'd Man, betwen the Age of Thirty and Forty Years; ſpeaketh very much on the Brogue; generally travelleth with Two Spades, and profeſſeth Ditching; he is well known in Goochland County; and weareth a Grey Kerſey Coat and Waſtecoat. The ſaid Robertſon is a ſmall, thin Man, a thin Face, a long Noſe; and ſpeaketh pretty much upon the Brouge; between Thirty and Forty Years of Age, can likewiſe talk Scotch, and profeſſeth the making of Leather Breeches: He went off in Company with one Anne Sentall, who paſſeth for his Wife, a middle ſized Woman, aged about Twenty Four Years.

THESE are therefore, in His Majeſty's Name, to require and command you, and every of you, that you make diligent Search and Purſuit, by Way of Hue and Cry, within your ſeveral and reſpective Bailiwicks and Precincts, after the ſaid Felons; and them, or either of them, having found, to apprehend and convey to ſome Magiſtrate, to be dealt withal according to Law. And I do hereby deſire all Magiſtrates, and Others, within the Neighbouring Colonies, to whom theſe Preſents ſhall come, to be aiding and aſſiſting in the apprehending of the ſaid Felons. And as an Encouragement to ſuch Perſon or Perſons as ſhall apprehend them, I do hereby promiſe, in Behalf of the Public, that the Sum of Ten Pounds Current Money ſhall be paid to him or them ſo apprehending and ſecuring the ſaid Felons, for every one of them ſo apprehended and ſecured, who, upon Trial ſhall be convicted of the ſaid Felony.

GIVEN under my Hand and the Seal of the Colony at Williamsburg, the Fifteenth Day of October, 1737, in the Eleventh Year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord King GEORGE the Second.

William Gooch.

Williamsburg, October 21.

The Right Hon. the Lord Fairfax embark'd for England, about 3 Weeks ſince, in a Ship from Rappahanock River.

Laſt Sunday was Sen'night the Body of Capt. Upcott, who had been Maſter of a Veſſel ſome Time, in the Service of Capt. Perrin, of Glouceſter, was taken up, floating on the River, near Glouceſter Town. It ſeems he was drowned a few Days before, by falling out of a Canoe.

A Man returning home from the laſt General Muſter of York County, call'd at a Neighbour's Houſe, and 'tis ſaid drank ſo freely, that as he was going home, he fell from his Horſe, and was ſo mortally wounded, that he died ſoon after.

We hear from King William County, That about a Fortnight ago, a young Man hang'd himſelf there; for what Cauſe is not certainly known.

By the lateſt Advices from London, we are inform'd, That -------- Harriſon, Eſq; a Relation of the Right Hon. Sir Robert Walpole, is appointed Surveyor General of the Southern Diſtrict of America, in the Room of George Phenney, Eſq; deceas'd.

On Wedneſday laſt, being the Fourth Day of the General Court, came on the Trials of the Criminals, which were more numerous than has been known for many Years; and the Grand Jury being ſworn, (of which Col. Armiſtead was Foreman) they found Bills of Indictment againſt the following Perſons, viz.

James Dickerſon, for Felony; who on his Tryal was found Guilty.

James Wright, for Felony. Found Guilty.

Peter Heckie, and Bryan Conner, for Murder. Found Guilty.

Theſe were Two of the Perſons who were concern'd in the Murder of Lifelet Larby, in Orange County, of which we formerly gave an Account, as diſcovered by William Marr, another of the Perſons concern'd in it, who voluntarily came to Hanover Court, and confeſs'd the Fact; and being there try'd by a ſpecial Court, was order'd to the Publick Goal of this Colony.

The Confeſſion of the ſaid Marr being printed in this Gazette, and ſoon afterwards re-printed in the Philadelphia and other News-Papers, was the Means of apprehending theſe Murderers, who fled from the Place where they had committed the Murder, and got into Buſineſs in Pennſylvania; and tho' they were diſpers'd at many Miles Diſtance from each other, and thought themſelves ſecure, yet theſe Two were, by Means of the ſaid Publications, diſcover'd, apprehended, and brought together to Juſtice. The other named Matthew Conner, (for there were Four concern'd) is not yet taken; but as Murder ſeldom goes unpuniſh'd, it is not doubted but he will be diſcover'd, and meet with his deſerv'd Fate. On their Tryal, William Marr was admitted an Evidence; and the Priſoners at the Bar being conſcious of their Guilt, ſoon confeſs'd, viz. Peter Heckie, that he ſhot the ſaid Larby; and Bryan O Conner, that he was ſo near at the Time he was kill'd, that he heard him ſay, The Lord have Mercy on my Soul, &c. which, with the Evidence of the ſaid Marr, and other material Circumſtances corroborating, were convincing to the Jury, who brought them in Guilty.

Lawrence MacDonald, and Dennis Mackormick, for Felony and Burglary; the former was found guilty, and the latter acquitted.

James Farmer, for Murder. Not try'd yet.

John Harris, for Felony. Found guilty, to the Value of 3 s. 6 d.

Jane Kelly, for Felony. Found guilty.

Elizabeth Sollis, for Felony. Found guilty.

William Steverſon, for Treaſon, in Counterfeiting Money. Not try'd yet.

Robert Thomſon, for Felony. Acquitted.

Mary Smith, for Felony. Found guilty.

Daniel Handley, John Burke, James Newgine, and Thomas Robertſon, for Burglary and Felony, in forcibly entring the Houſe of Mr. Liddердale, a Merchant of Prince George County, in the Night, and ſtealing from thence Goods to a conſiderable Value, and about 80 l. in Caſh. Six Perſons were concern'd in this notorious Robbery; Two of whom were taken, viz. Daniel Handley, and Patrick Gibling; Handley was try'd, and Gibling was admitted an Evidence againſt him. He excepted againſt all the Venire but one, that were ſummon'd to try him; but a Jury being ſoon impannell'd, and the Evidence of the ſaid Gibling, and others, being plain againſt him, he was found guilty. The other Perſons concern'd in the ſaid Robbery, having fled from Juſtice, His Honour the Governor has been pleaſed to iſſue a Hue and Cry for apprehending them; and has offer'd a Reward of Ten Pounds for each of them that ſhall be apprehended, and convicted; as may more fully appear by the ſaid Hue and Cry in this Paper.

The Grand Jury addreſs'd His Honour the Governor, to continue the Prohibition of the Exportation of Grain. The Time limited by the Proclamation already publiſh'd for that Purpoſe, will expire the laſt Day of this Month; ſo that we may ſoon be able to inform the Public whether the Prohibition will be continued or taken off.
